Professor of Medicine

Colorado State University

Craig Griffin D.V.M., DACVD

Animal Dermatology Clinic

San Diego

Catriona MacPhail D.V.M., Ph.D., DACVS

Assistant Professor of Surgery

Colorado State University

*Dr. Lappin is currently professor and head of small animal internal medicine at Colorado
State University.*

Dr. Craig

*Griffin practices in San Diego, Hawaii,
Alaska and Tustin.*

Dr. Catriona Macphail is on the surgical staff at Colorado State.

*Dr. MacPhail is teaming up with Dr's Lappin and Griffin to provide a balance of opinion
- surgery versus
medical management
of clinical problems.
IVS believes that the combination of internal medicine, surgery & dermatology
lectures will result in an outstanding continuing education course for you or your staff.*

Dr.'s Lappin,

MacPhail and Griffin work with practicing veterinarians daily and have vast experiences that enable them to distill the questions from their general practitioner colleagues into short practical answers. We have all been to meetings where you already know 45 minutes of the material in a 50 minute lecture but have to wait until the very end to get the new information! In this seminar series, Drs. Lappin, MacPhail and Griffin will present the information that is of practical interest to the practitioner. The pace is rapid and so the CE is never boring!
